Texas Horsemen's Partnership Launches New Website, Encourages All Texas Horsemen to Register for Important Industry Updates

New Website Provides Expanded Resources, Industry News, and Timely Communications for Current and Former Racehorse Owners Across All Breeds

ELGIN, TEXAS — October 23, 2026 — The Texas Horsemen's Partnership (THP), the recognized representative organization for racehorse owners and trainers in Texas, is pleased to announce the launch of its newly redesigned website, www.texashorsemen.org. The new website reflects THP's continued commitment to strengthening Texas horse racing by providing horsemen with easier access to important resources, industry information, and timely communications.

As part of this initiative, THP is encouraging all current and former Texas racehorse owners, trainers, breeders, and racing industry participants to visit the new website and subscribe to receive THP Email Updates.

Whether involved with Thoroughbreds, Quarter Horses, Arabians, or Paint Horses, Texas horsemen have a shared interest in the issues and developments that affect the state's racing industry. THP recognizes that keeping horsemen informed is an essential part of protecting their interests and supporting a strong future for racing in Texas.

Critical Information When It Matters Most

The horse racing industry continues to face changing regulations, legislative issues, racing developments, and equine health concerns. Some announcements require immediate attention, making timely and accurate communication increasingly important.

Through its expanded email communications, THP intends to provide subscribers with relevant information, including:

- Texas Racing Commission Updates: Important regulatory announcements, rule changes, meeting information, and licensing developments.
- Legislative and Industry Issues: Developments that could affect horse ownership, racing opportunities, purse structures, and the future of Texas racing.
- Equine Health and Safety Alerts: Emerging animal health concerns, disease alerts, and information from state and industry authorities.
- Racetrack News and Announcements: Racing schedules, condition books, race programs, and important operational information from Texas racetracks.
- Horsemen's Resources and Benefits: Information about services, assistance programs, educational opportunities, and resources available to Texas horsemen.
- Industry News: Relevant developments involving Texas racing organizations, horse sales, breeding programs, and other issues affecting horsemen.

"In an industry where regulations, racing opportunities, and equine health concerns can change quickly, staying informed is more important than ever," said the Texas Horsemen's Partnership. "Our goal is to make it easier for every Texas horseman to receive timely, reliable information and stay connected to the issues affecting our industry."

A New Online Resource for Texas Horsemen

In addition to its expanded communications capabilities, the redesigned THP website provides a more accessible, organized, and user-friendly experience.

Visitors can access important information related to the Texas Racing Commission, racetrack schedules and condition books, licensing, horsemen's benefits and services, industry news, breed associations, and other valuable resources.

The website also provides convenient access to information about Texas racing at Lone Star Park, Sam Houston Race Park, Retama Park, and Gillespie County Fair racing.

An Invitation to All Texas Horsemen — Past and Present

THP emphasizes that this invitation extends beyond those currently racing horses in Texas.

Former racehorse owners, trainers, breeders, and others who have participated in Texas racing are encouraged to reconnect with the industry through the new website. Their experience, involvement, and continued interest remain valuable to the future of horse racing in Texas.

Even if you are no longer actively racing horses, the issues affecting Texas horse racing today may be important to you tomorrow.

By subscribing to THP Email Updates, horsemen can stay informed about significant developments, better understand issues affecting the industry, and remain connected to the Texas racing community.
